HAVE COURAGE—It conduces much to our content if we pass by those things which happen to our troubles and consider what is pleasing and prosperous, that by the representation of the better the worse may be blotted out. If I be overthrown in my suif at law, yet my house is left me still, and my land, or I have a virtuous wife, or hopeful chiffren, or kind ir conds, or good hopes. If I have lost one child, it may be I have two or three still left me. Enjoy the present, whatesoever it may be, and be not solicitous for the future; for if you take your foot from the present standing, and thrust it forward toward to-morrow's event, you are in a restless condition; it is like refusing to quench your present thirst by fearing you shall want drink the next day. If to-morrow you should want, your sorrow would come time enough, though you do not hasten it; let your trouble tarry till its own day comes. Enjoy the birselings of this day, if God sends them, and the evits of it bear patiently and sweetly, for this day only is ours. Mary (alarmed)—Perhaps I wouldn't understand if you did explain it."
"No, you couldn't understand that, but this you can. You see the combination of two flanges, with pawls and ratchet wheels, turning with a reciprocating motion—"
Mary leaves the room with her hands on her head, and now Charles wonders where the Official Gazettes go the moment they come into the house.

A SCIENTIFIC writer says: If half a pint of water be placed in a perfectly clear glass bottle, a few grains of the best white sugar added, and the bottle freely exposed to the daylight in the window of a warm room, the liquid should not become turbid, even after exposure for a week or ten days. If the water become turbid, it is open to grave suspicion of sewage contamination; but if it remain clear, it is almost certainly safe.

TREINJURIOUS EFFECT of artificial light upon the eye is said to be due to the presence of an excessive number of non-luminous heat rays. As proving this it is said that while smulight contains 50 per cent. of these rays, electric light has 80, gaslight 90, and kerosene-light 91 per cent. In view to these facts, an eminent German chemist proposes to absorb these injurious rays by interposing between the source of light and the eye a thin layer of alum or mica.
